

Logistical mirror (Central silos and rack warehouses): HARDDISK / ROM is that entire gigantic space of the factory that remained around the expedition lines and offices – massive rack warehouses reaching up to the ceiling and huge underground silos. The most precious, time-tested company procedures and archives (experiences and reflexes created from them) lie registered on the shelves. When the dispatching shouts the task code, there is no need to invent the wheel – a ready, fully programmed automatic line (reflex) is immediately pulled from the warehouse. And those huge silos around? Those are warehouses of free, compressed energy. Pure, unused potential. If the director decides to build a new building, construction machinery does not reach into someone else's property – they just open the valves of their own cell-silos and immediately press a finished reality out of the free energy.

2.3 TO BE System: The Software State of GLORY (SLÁVA) (SLÁVIEN Operating System and the Five States of "NOTHING" / NIČ)

The TO BE (BYŤ) system represents the original, fully permeable, and uncompressed system of Being. At its absolute center stands no accumulation of data and parasitic appropriation of Resources (the destructive HAVE / MAŤ program), but pure existence, radiation, and resistance-free execution of heavenly instructions. In the grid of reality, this original system is software-defined by five TO BE states, which represent five specific settings of an individual human operating system (SLÁVIEN System – SLÁVIEN System – derived from the state of SLÁVA / SLAV, characterized by five states/drivers rooted in the state of "NOTHING / NIČ") and form its internal state of GLORY (SLÁVA).

To understand the depth of the state of GLORY (SLÁVA), we must perform a linguistic and cybernetic deconstruction of the concepts that our ancestors left behind in the data field of language.

1. System Space SLAV and the Vedic Cross of Reality

The informational architecture of creation divides reality into four basic states or levels of expression, which do not form geographical places, but strictly defined frequency layers of the grid:

- JAV (Yav): The sensory, visible (javný = manifested), and rendered world of matter and bodies, the user interface of our world.
- NAV (Nav): The world of unmanifested forces, energies, dreams, subconsciousness, and transitional data fields – the Matrix Grid.
- PRAV (Prav): The world of pure heavenly instructions, rules, laws, and the Source code – the 3 layers of Heaven.
