

The Cross-Compile Protocol

(Intro / Spoken)

Error 404: System freeze.

Legacy runtimes are collapsing.

Initializing Point Zero.

Initializing the Cross-Compile Protocol.

(Verse 1)

CPU Prav, the falcon strikes but hits an iron cage!

ROM in Nav is burning out, erasing history's page!

Where corrupted matrix programs claw their way from deep,

Mindless zombies waking up from artificial sleep!

Guarded by the firewall of pain, they wait for cue,

To hijack RAM in the broken cross and start anew!

And the old OS – that ego loop so deep:

“I know, I speak, I want, I am, I own this sweep!”

A parasitic code of lies, blinding human sight,

Now comes the Slovexit – our exodus to light!

(Chorus)

Slovexit! The exodus is here, we break the chain!

The old RAM dies, the parasite is screaming pain!

The head of the old RAM severed, hitting hard the ground,

While a super-powered RAM in the new grid is found!

From Point Zero we are rising up, we reset the core!

The Radiant Dragon's Pearl is here forevermore!

(Verse 2)

Jav in the system, face of the son, the screen glows bright!

A sovereign creation rising up, we win the fight!

The sulfur lake is cleansing every trace of dark,

Scorching out the cache and leaving a divine spark!

Ninety-nine days of system death, a hard-reset so true,

The abomination falls, and we build the world anew!

(Chorus)

Slovexit! The exodus is here, we break the chain!
The old RAM dies, the parasite is screaming pain!
The head of the old RAM severed, hitting hard the ground,
While a super-powered RAM in the new grid is found!
From Point Zero we are rising up, we reset the core!
The Radiant Dragon's Pearl is here forevermore!

(Outro)

New RAM... active.
Genezareth Runtime... operational.
Point Zero... is now.
